TECH HAS VETERANS OUT

Many Former Stars Depart for College With Fine Records
Made Here.

By BRYAN MORSE.

Mark down this date as the official opening of the high school football season, for all of the schoolboys are going to either assemble for meetings or will have a workout of some sort before the sun climbs down in the West. A promise of cooler weather for the week will be a boon to the lads who have been working all summer to put on a few extra pounds in order to get into the heavyweight class for the gridiron campaign.

Eastern, Western, and Business will hold sessions today. Leo Lanan, captain of the Blue and White eleven, and Coach S. T. Kimble will look over the prospects at the Capitol Hill institution. Graves, center; Maier, a guard; Gwinn, a tackle; Hunt, an end; Brown, a quarterback; Sweeney, an end, and Horn, a fullback, of last year's eleven, are expected to be on hand.

Johnny Mackall, captain of Western, is expecting a number of veterans. Grayson, a tackle; Willis and Weedon, guards; McKelway, Fisher, Busby, Rohrer, Sergeant, Peck, Welchell, O'Brien, and Payton, of last year's eleven, are expected to be out for the eleven.

Ray Culligan, at business, is blessed with several returning teammates. Keesch, fullback; Ralph Wise, the Queens boys, Stern, Wassman, Buck Wise, MacDonald, and Kelly are leftovers from last season. Central has been out for a week and Tech has been out for a day. Central lads have a game with Fome on October 2 and want to get a line on their ability. Coach John Thomas will be with the eleven from now on. "Buck" Oehstadt is captain of Central.

Gene Ochsenreiter, captain of Tech, has a few veterans. The loss of Supple, Rooney, Hardell and one or two other stars will somewhat handicap Tech this season. Myers, Sabine, Roberts, Snyder, Parker, Taylor, Young, Dailey, Williams, and Chase will be back for this year's eleven.

Harold Supple and "Pony" Stead, of Tech, will go to Carolina A. and M. this year, according to reports. Supple is likely to make a name for himself, and will probably get a chance to show something more than he did in high school, when he was regarded as the strongest lineman in the school. Stead is a good quarter, a bit light for the heavier work of college football, but a heady general as has been developed here in a number of years.

Edwin Giblin, captain of Western's team last year, will probably go to Maryland Agricultural College. Giblin played a great game at center, and guard for Western, and was one of the best basketball players on the floors last season.

King Holiday, a lineman at Cathedral last season, is another youngster who is headed for A. C. Holiday was coming forward rapidly at St. Albans.

Joe Baldwin will be missed at Eastern this year. The youngster is going to Allegheny College. Baldwin is understood. Baldwin is one of the best athletes developed at Eastern last season. He played football and basketball equally well, and was rated as a star.

Harry Harris, former Business High School athlete, is captain of the Dean Academy eleven in Worcester, Mass. This fall, Harris is working Ed Kelley with him. It is understood that Kelley will be back for this year's eleven, and is being looked over by Hughes Jennings, of the Detroit baseball team.

St. Mary's Squad Out; Many Veterans in Line

EMMITSBURG, Md., Sept. 20.—Twenty-four men reported for football practice to Coach Day at Mount St. Mary's College. The team will start this year by playing at Mount St. Mary's. Carroll, a tackle, is expected to be back for the last two seasons. Several of the men who occupied first-string positions last year will no doubt fill their old places. Rice, at center; Cahill and Halligan, at ends; Dwyer and Stohman, at guards; Sheridan and Long, in the backfield, and Mulhearn, Zitzman and Whittle, on the line will all be reported this year. Other men who have returned today are Talbot, Morgan, Kelley, Mulhearn, Quinn, Cashman, Casey, Tisdale, Kirk, Allen, Rodgers, Grady.

Syracuse Will Play Occidental College

SYRACUSE, Sept. 20.—Syracuse University has scheduled a football game with Occidental College to be played at Los Angeles Saturday, December 4. This is to be the third game of a triangular trip. The University of Montana will be met on Thanksgiving Day and Oregon Agricultural College December 1. Syracuse is negotiating with Franklin and Marshall for a game next Saturday to replace Hobart, which canceled its date.

Taber Will Coach.

ITHACA, Sept. 20.—David F. Taber, of Brooklyn, and Donald Champagnon, two former Cornell varsity players, will coach the Cornell freshman football team this year. It was announced by the athletic association, Taber will be head coach. He was a halfback on the team a year ago, but sustained a fractured leg in the College game and had to abandon football. Freshman football practice will begin this week.

McGRAW SAYS--- Feds are trying to use him in their advertising campaign---Will never join Jitney league until he's done.

Will Make Sweeping Changes in Giants Before Another Year Rolls Around—Moran Is Winning Because He Cut Out All Dead Wood From Club.

By JOHN J. McGRAW,
(Manager of the New York Giants.)

Before tackling the baseball situation of the week, there is one lie I want to nail. It is the report that I am considering an offer from the Federal League to manage a club in New York. They are trying to use me to advertise their league. Even though I am trailing with a loser, I have not come to the point yet where I will have to join a jitney league, and, when I do, I will quit the game.

The Federal League has done enough damage to my team by worrying the players. It has had a lot to do with the bad showing of the club this season. I'll admit that. They have buzzed a lot of my men and made them think they should be getting the income of Mr. Rockefeller or some of those birds. The long term contracts also had their effect, because a lot of the players thought they could lay down and were not in any danger of being fired for it. I'll show them they can't. I am going to begin getting rid of the dead wood right away.

The fact that the club is in last place does not worry me very much. In a way, I am glad it is there, although that may sound foolish. But, if we had been up in the first division fighting for the flag all the way in this close race and had finished even third or fourth, then I would not feel justified in making the sweeping changes I have planned. I have known for a long time—that is, for two or three months—that the team as it stands would have to be torn apart. It won't do. Now I can do it, and I will do it. The players have not stood by me this year, and I won't stand by them. There is one old boy, of course, who can hang his uniform in the Giants' club house as long as he wants to, and he is Big Six. But I haven't any use for any of the rest of them, and I would cut loose from any one of them if my judgment dictated it.

WON'T BOTHER HIM NEXT YEAR.

The Federal League won't bother me any next year. They have about killed themselves with the jitney baseball. There is one club owner in that league who is putting up a lot of money. He is carrying the organization, and it is some load. They are making a struggle to do everything they can to hurt baseball. With Detroit up in the race for the American League pennant, they have been busing around Cobb again.

I happen to know that some Federal League men had a talk with him when he was in New York last week, and offered him big money put in the bank. They could not get it, but this sort of work does not do a man any good who is in a very tight fight for a pennant. I don't believe Cobb would be happy to do that. He should join them. They don't play the ball there. It would get on Cobb's nerves. Even if they give him the money they say they would, it wouldn't be worth it to him.

The newspapers had a good deal to say about the row Herzog and I had in Cincinnati. He just said he was going to finish last year's season. The loss of Supple, Rooney, Hardell and one or two other stars will somewhat handicap Tech this season. Myers, Sabine, Roberts, Snyder, Parker, Taylor, Young, Dailey, Williams, and Chase will be back for this year's eleven.

Pictures and Motor Cars Classed As Twin Agents of Civilization

The motion picture and the automobile have been linked together as modern agencies of civilization. The person supplying the link is no less than Dr. Charles F. Thwing, president of the Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio, one of the most conservative of modern educators. Dr. Thwing, from his residence on the university campus at the far end of the famous Euclid avenue, can look down that thoroughfare and see the reflection of scores of blazing picture theaters signs every evening.

Along the boulevard in front of his house, he sees scores of motor cars pass every hour. And in the picture theaters and the motors he finds more people than he finds in the schools and in the churches. He regards both the pictures and the motor as having a tremendous influence on the life of the people—an influence for good. This is the way he expresses it.

"The automobile and the moving picture, two of the newest material forces in American life, so unlike in themselves, are yet having a similarly tremendous effect on American character. They represent enlargement of vision, the receiving of new impressions, the enjoyment of unique experience.

"They lessen provincialism and localism in knowledge, feeling and appreciation. They help to make a large citizenship of the world."

"The automobile bears one into parts of the world where the railroad cannot easily penetrate, and opens a world of culture, numerous and entrancing. The result is the enlargement of feeling and of all the forces of observation."

"A similar effect is wrought by the moving picture. If the automobile bears one into all the earth, the moving picture bears all the earth to man. He sees even if he does not feel, and sometimes he feels, all that belongs to man."

"Human experience of war and peace, of wealth and penury, of integrity and intrigue, of stratagem and handcraft, become his."

"These are good results, but there

Dunn Gets Silver Cup From Bayonne Friends

BAYONNE, Sept. 20.—It was Jack Dunn day in Bayonne yesterday, and a large crowd of fans who think a lot of the manager of the Richmond International League team, because he is the only Bayonne boy who made good in the larger leagues, gave him and his aggregation of ball players a big time.

Following a parade led by a brass band, Richmond defeated the Babcock & Wilcox team, winner of the 1915 championship in the New Jersey Manufacturers' League, by a score of 11 to 2.

During the game a silver loving cup was presented to Dunn by Mayor Cullen. After the game Dunn was the guest of honor at a dinner, and he was reminded of the day when he learned the game playing with the old Centreville and West Side Athletic clubs.
